

I'm not robot!

All about stative and dynamic verbs

I'm so cool!
They describe states. States are different from actions because we don't actively do what the state describes. States stay the same over long periods of time. States, usually, can't be seen. States can't be in Continuous tenses.

Stative vs Dynamic verbs

Let me just take a break.
They describe actions. Things we actively do because we decide to. Actions usually have a beginning and an end, they happen at a specific time. Actions can usually be seen happening.

Stative Verbs (States)	Dynamic Verbs (Actions)
think, believe, feel (=think), doubt, realise, recognise, know, understand, disagree, forget, remember, mean, see, hear	have, own, possess, belong, contain, include, need, want, prefer, desire, mind, (dis)like, love, hate, don't

Special verbs - they can be used as stative and as dynamic

be
I am ill. / They are friends. / She is happy. (states - no continuous tenses)
She's just being silly. pay no attention! (she is acting in a silly way - dynamic use)

verbs expressing qualities
You smell like a dog! Go have a shower. / This music sounds familiar. / My forehead feels hot. / You look great! / This tastes delicious! / She weighs the same as me! (expressing qualities -> states - no continuous tenses) She's smelling the food. / The chef is tasting the sauce. He usually tastes sauce before serving them. / The lights were out and I was feeling my way out when I touched the snake. / I wasn't looking at you! / I'm weighing the flour for the cake. (expressing actions, not qualities -> dynamic - simple and continuous tenses)

look - the cake isn't doing at all
The cake smells delicious!
She is smelling a flower.
